FURUNO INCREASES WARRANTY TO TWO YEARS PARTS AND LABOR

Furuno, the most trusted name in marine electronics, has just gone one step further to prove their commitment to its product line by increasing its warranty. As of January 1, 2005, Furuno USA, Inc. is now offering a full two-year factory parts and labor warranty on their entire product line for products sold on or after January 1, 2005.

“Furuno products have always been manufactured with the highest, commercial grade components”, commented Jim Atteridge, President of Furuno USA, Inc. “and that is why Furuno has become known as the most reliable marine electronics available. Offering a full two-year parts and labor warranty shows our confidence in our products and is your assurance of top quality.”

Furuno’s worldwide sales and service network is second to none. With Furuno sales and service centers on six continents — plus Continental Service Centers in the United States, Denmark and Japan — the Furuno network of quality products and unparalleled service literally spans the globe.
